DANGERS OF DRINKING WATER.

Dr. K. Beerwald, of Berlin, is opposed to the free drinking of water so often advised. He says:

"Excessive water drinking not only produces temporary disturbance, it also creates direct organic disorders; the heart and kidneys are particularly affected by the excess, and in these cases the vascular system is overcharged and the heart and kidneys are frequently seen in cases of slight injury. A man who suffers frequently from flatulence, indigestion, and we may well consider that excessive thirst is a sign that the amount of fluid in the body is not kept within bounds, and that this condition must be remedied by opposing the feeling of thirst."

TEMPE

TOOK IN THE CIRCUS.

Tempe Was Practically Depopulated Most of Yesterday.

Yesterday was a very quiet day in Tempe. That, however, will cause no surprise when it is taken into consideration that there were in the neighborhood of 1500 people from this place who attended the circus in Phoenix or at least went to Phoenix whether they took in the show or not. It was an easy matter to compute those figures and they are approximately correct for both railroads ran excursions and were heavily loaded at every trip. The four morning trains on the two roads; two on each, carried a little over five hundred a piece and in the evening there was another train on both roads that took at least half that many more. The railroad patronage was unusually heavy for the simple reason that it was a case of have to. The river was past fording and all that attended from the south side went either that way or on foot.

The public school and most of the country schools made no pretense of keeping school hours and the day was declared a holiday. While at the normal school was not dismissed, provisions were made whereby those of the students who wished might attend the performance in the afternoon and by far the greater majority took advantage of the opportunity, hence there was little or no school there during the afternoon session.

Some of the business houses were closed the greater part of the day and altogether it was a day off and one of pleasure for the residents of this place.
